The Appomattox County Rescue Squad, with five qualified instructors taking part in the training, awarded on Monday night 13 certificates to persons satisfactorily completing the Standard First Air Course given at the Squad Building. The five instructors participating, all members of the Appomattox County Rescue Squad, were Bill Sperry, Opal Paulette, Leota Vaughan, Junior Beasley and Pete Doss. Five teen-agers and eight adults earning their Standard First Aid Card were Bill Stanley, Donna Paulette, Kim Harrison, Mary Louise Parris, Ty Beasley, Sarah Vaughan, Bena House, Jean Pitsenberger, Dalton Elder, George Allen, Frank Wooldridge, Franklin Vaughan and Wayne Reynolds.

After completing their written test on Monday night, the First Aid Students, Instructors and guests were privileged to hear a program on Highway Safety given by Trooper Howard Gregory of the Virginia State Police, Appomattox Division. Trooper Gregory gave a most informative and interesting talk and then showed a film "HIGHWAY OF AGONY" to the group.

jects for grounds upkeep, utility maintenance, etc. Approximately $7 - $10,000 can be allocated to Appomattox county, it appears, from a fund totaling $174,000 which reflects the population of the Cent. Va. Planning District. The fund is distributed according to population in those counties and cities requesting the use of funds for this purpose.

Mrs. H. Broderick Pack,III, a registered nurse, was named by the board to replace Mrs. M. G. Stimpson as Appomattox county non-governmental representative to the Community Mental Health and Mental Retardation Service Board of Central Virginia. Mrs. Pack's term on the board will end in December of 1973. Appomattox county has two representatives on this planning board--one supervisor, O. H. Tolley, and one other person named annually by the board of supervisors.

Sheriff Gene Richardson, talking with the board about the need for modern radio equipment was told by the chairman that the board has "no desire to put off the sheriff's department in the matter, but simply to plan a new system to conform best to other sheriff's departments and other law enforcement agencies throughout Virginia." Various companies representing different two-way radio systems have been appearing before the board and talking with the sheriff's department.

Mr. Cole brought up the matter of the 1973 deadline for a plan for solid waste disposal on the part of the county and the town of Appomattox (also Pamplin). The board agrees that further planning and meetings with town councils of Pamplin and Appomattox will be necessary in order to meet the state's new requirements.

The board stated that a request will be issued to Commonwealth's attorney Harry Gordon Lawson to draw up plans for a uniform system of vacations, maternity leave, sick leave, etc. for all county employees.

The matter of tax relief for a non-profit organization within the county limits was brought up in response to a request for clarification from the board of directors of Robert E. Lee Academy. The board requested that Commonwealth's Attorney H. G. Lawson obtain a ruling from the Va. Attorney General on the matter.

Letter To Editor

Mon., Sept. 13,1971

Dear Mr. Vaughan,

The operation was on on Friday. It took almost six hours again. George is real sick and has to be so careful to not lose this graft. I haven't been able to leave him since the operation. The doctor said that he is doing as well as can be expected. Please continue to pray for him. We don't know how much longer we will be here this time, depends on how he gets along.

Thought you would like to hear from him. Thanks again for everything. May God bless you.

Always in Christ,

Pastor Speaks

WHAT ARE THE JESUS PEOPLE PROTESTING?

Many of the Jesus people frankly aren't protesting anything. They are mostly pro-Christ instead of anti-church or anti-institution. It is true that a lot of the young people who are coming to know Christ through the Jesus Revolution are not doing so through the outreach of the organized church. The reason for this is that the organized churches have not been reaching for them.

In many mainline denominations pastors preach to more empty seats than to people on Sundays. Few young people attend. Congregations are restless. The homes of many of the faithful members are comingapart at the seams. But as denominations cut back budgets, staff, and activities a driving, thriving spiritual movement is absorbing many of our young people.

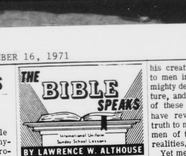
These young people are much more eager to share the reality of that which they are experiencing than to attack the church or any other institution. Some churches, however, are experiencing real revivals.

In mid-1970 Rev. John Bisagno came to the First Baptist Church in Houston, Texas. At that time it was a sleepy, listless congregation with a formal dignity about it. Five hundred people came in for the Sunday morning service. Ninety per cent of the people were forty-five or over.

In mid-1971 the church was running over ten thousand in preaching services and Sunday School, and among that number were 150 college students, nearly 500 teen-agers, and 500 young adults under 35. What happened?

For three months in late 1970 and early 1971 the First Baptist Church sponsored a "Seriese", an acronym for Spiritual Revolution Now. In high school rallies, and coffee houses, and public meeting houses Christ was presented for these movements. The driving movement was brought into the First Baptist Church, and there were fifteen hundred conversions almost immediately.

Pastor Bisagno adds that these young people will come to any church where the people love them, and where Christ is preached in simple language.



TO SEE THE UNSEEABLE

Lesson for September 19, 1971

Background Scripture: John 1: 1-18
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40-12-31

A little boy was being reminded for the umpteenth time not to put his fingers in his mouth because his hands were dirty and there might be germs on them. "Oh, for Pete's sake," the little boy burst forth, "God and germs! God and germs! That's all I ever hear: God and germs -- and I've never seen either of them!"

We can sympathize with the little fellow for we can appreciate how puzzling it must be for children to be asked to believe in someone whom they cannot see. Still, on the other hand, we also ask them to believe in germs, too, and they can't see those either.

The Word

From his earliest days man has believed in things and persons who were unseen and unseeable. The reason for this belief has been God's tireless efforts to reveal himself to man. "In the beginning was the Word*" (John 1:1) -- from the very beginning God has tried to make himself known to his creatures. He has "spoken" to men in nature, in dreams, in and history, in mighty deeds, in laws and literature, and in human thought. All of these channels of revelation have revealed glimpses of the truth to men. The have convinced men of the existence of unseen realities.

Yet men are not satisfied until unless they can see with their eyes and hear with their ears. They may be thrilled with lofty ideas and stories, but still they want something more concrete, more specific. It was to meet this need of men that God spoke through that most revealing of all his creations -- a man! "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth" (1:14).

To Make Him Known

Men has gained some understanding of the nature of God through the wonders of the natural world. They had been led closer to him by philosophies and by laws and man's imaginative creations. Yet God was still unseen and unseeable. It was thus the purpose of the Incarnation -- the Word became flesh -- to help men to see the unseeable, "No one has ever seen God; the only Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he has made him known" (1:18).

This doesn't mean that Jesus was the only revelation of God, but that he is the fullest, revealing to us all that we need to know and

Bees Upset Raiders 35-0

By Joe Vaughan

The Brookville Bees upset the Appomattox Raiders at Brookville High School Friday night be a score of 35-0. The Raiders were well supported by fans, but were overpowered by Brookville's passing and running game.

The Bees' strong offense got off to a great start by having a 21-0 lead by the end of the first quarter. They failed to score anymore in the first half, but came back in the second half with two more touchdowns to build their lead up to 35-0.

For the Raiders, quarterbacks, Wayne Simpson and Bobby Layne both saw action. Simpson mostly stuck to the running game, and Layne went to the air, but his receivers had trouble handling the ball. Appomattox had four fumbles, which the Bees apparently took advantage of in getting their touchdowns. Dennis Wilkerson, Lee Conner, Billy Guthrie, and Randy Foster were among some of the Raiders who stood out on defense.

The mighty Raiders have their next two games at home with Randolph-Henry and then Gretna. Come and support your team!
